DETAILED ACTION

Applicants' amendment which included amendment to claims 10-12, cancellation of claims 7, 8, and 13, filed 11/06/2003 under 37 CFR 1.116 in reply to the final rejection has been considered and is made of record. Applicants' declarations under 37 C.F.R § 1.131 are also made of record.

Claims 1,3,4,10-12, 21-25, and 27-28 are now are pending.

In view of applicants' declaration asserting the conception and reduction to practice of the instant invention was before the effective priority date of Henry et al., the prior art 102(e) and 103 (a) rejection made over Henry et al. are deemed as obviated.

The Finality of the previous office action is withdrawn to make the following new rejection.

Double Patenting

A rejection based on double patenting of the "same invention" type finds its support in the language of 35 U.S.C. 101 which states that "whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process ... may obtain a patent therefor ..." (Emphasis added). Thus, the term "same invention," in this context, means an invention drawn to identical subject matter. See Miller v. Eagle Mfg. Co., 151 U.S. 186 (1894); In re Ockert, 245 F.2d 467, 114 USPQ 330 (CCPA 1957); and In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970).

A statutory type (35 U.S.C. 101) double patenting rejection can be overcome by canceling or amending the conflicting claims so they are no longer coextensive in scope. The filing of a terminal disclaimer cannot overcome a double patenting rejection based upon 35 U.S.C. 101.

Claim 11 is a duplicate of claim 10.

Examiner had made efforts to resolve this issue by examiner's amendment but applicants' counselor John White was not available. Therefore, due to lack of time and to avoid further delay, this action is made.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 1,3,4,10,12, 21-25, and 27-28 would be allowed. Said claims would be allowed since specific species, composition and method of use embraced in these claims are not taught or suggested by the art of record or from a search in the relevant art area.
